

Fletcher's Lemonade Stand

Alright, right here. Right here.

Fletcher and Sam decided they wanted to have a lemonade stand and donate the money to an organization that helps children with hearing loss
because Fletcher always says
he wants every child who can't hear to have ears like him because he loves his ears, so much.

*- I did it!
- Good job!*

They set it up. They made the signs. We got the word out.

Open for business!

Got any lemonade?

*- Pink or yellow?
- Pink.*

And we had water, and pink lemonade, and yellow lemonade,
and crushed ice, and no ice, and regular ice, and chips,
and he was doing it all.

He ran it. He was taking orders,
pouring the lemonade, passing out the chips.

He just has a really good heart
and that's my favorite thing about him.
